

Workshop #3 in De-Mystifying NGN Series:

Consider Changing Your Mental Model of Teaching

Wednesday, April 27th

2-4PM

Facilitator: Dr. Nelda Godfrey, PhD, RN, ACNS-BC, FAAN, ANEF

Purpose: The purpose of this activity is to explore the upcoming changes to the National Council Licensure Examination for RNs and the implications of these changes for nurse educators and nursing programs.

Objectives:

1. Describe how a faculty member might measure clinical judgment using simulation in the classroom.
2. Explore how knowledge from learning science and brain-based learning can inform clinical judgment activities.
3. Identify mechanisms and teaching strategies in which clinical judgment can advance the learning of pre-licensure students.
